Department of Sociology and Criminology Website (<https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/>)

The Department of Sociology and Criminology offers a major leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree in criminology. The Criminology BA provides marketable skills and knowledge that relate to crime prevention, law enforcement, and the court system. The program in criminology is comprehensive, adding the skills in research, theory, and data analytics that prepare students beyond an understanding of criminal procedures or evidence. This major will educate students in the complexities of criminal behavior and familiarize them with the justice system processes and the causes, correlations and consequences of criminal behavior. The department offers robust undergraduate internship opportunities (<https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/internships/>) that help criminology students develop a better understanding of a prospective career and determine whether their interests match a chosen career path, while simultaneously gaining experience with professionals in the field.

The department also offers a major in sociology (<https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/>), double major in criminology and sociology, a minor in sociology (<https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/undergraduate-programs/minor-in-sociology.php>) and a fully online minor in criminal justice (<https://online.uark.edu/programs/minor-criminal-justice.php>).

For requirements for an M.A. degree in sociology, with criminology concentration, see the Graduate School Catalog (<http://catalog.uark.edu/graduatecatalog/programsofstudy/sociologyandcriminologysoci/>).
