Courses are offered in European studies, broadly defined as the study of the geography, culture, history, language, and politics of central Europe, including the British Isles.

Students wishing to maximize their knowledge of European studies and wishing to prepare for graduate training and/or employment in the private sector or government in positions related to the area may earn a second major in European studies together with a major in another discipline. Students are required to coordinate their academic programs both with their advisers in the primary major department and with the director of the European Studies program. New students entering the program are required to notify both the major adviser and the director of studies of their intention to participate. Freshmen and sophomores considering this program are advised to begin their study of an appropriate foreign language as early as possible.

Requirements for a Second Major in European Studies

In addition to the requirements of a primary departmental major, students pursuing a combined major in European Studies must complete the following:

Language Requirement: Students must complete the equivalent of a third year of a modern European language, e.g., six hours of advanced 3000- or 4000-level work in French, German, or Spanish. Less commonly taught languages such as Portuguese, Russian, or Italian may be used, subject to the availability of courses. Three to six hours in one of these languages in an approved study abroad program in Europe may substitute for all or part of this requirement. For native speakers of a European language other than English, this requirement is waived.

Introduction to Europe: Students must complete EUST 2013 Introduction to Europe (Fa), preferably before taking the colloquium.

European Studies Colloquium: Students must complete three hours of EUST 4003 European Studies Colloquium (Sp).

Electives: Students must complete at least 18 hours of credit, in addition to the language requirement and the European studies colloquium, from among the following or in individualized studies under the direction of faculty participating in the program. Students choosing to take individualized reading or directed research courses as part of the major or minor must obtain the approval of the director of the area studies program and their major adviser. In addition, the following conditions apply:

1. A maximum of nine hours may be submitted from any one department, and

Requirements for a Minor in European Studies
Students wishing to minor in European studies must fulfill the EUST 2013 Introduction to Europe (Fa) and EUST 4003 European Studies Colloquium (Sp) requirements and the language requirements described under the requirements for the major. They also must complete at least 12 hours from among the electives listed for the major. Three of these credit hours may come from a study abroad experience. A maximum of six hours of electives may be submitted from any one department.

Honors Requirements in European Studies
Requirements for Honors in EUST: The Honors Program in European Studies gives junior and senior students of high ability the opportunity to enroll in enriched courses and conduct independent research culminating in an honors thesis. In addition to satisfying the general Fulbright College requirements for graduation and the basic eligibility requirements for honors as established by the Honors Council, candidates for honors in European Studies must complete 12 hours of honors credit in partial satisfaction of requirements for the co-major. One to six of these may be thesis hours (EUST 399VH). The preferred method for satisfying the remaining hours is to enroll in the colloquium at least once for honors credit (EUST 4003H) and to take relevant honors colloquia or graduate courses (with permission) in one of the departments contributing to this interdisciplinary area study. The thesis committee shall include a representative from the major discipline (in the case of multiple majors, from the discipline contributing most significantly to the topic). Successful completion of these requirements will be recognized by the award of the distinction “European Studies Scholar Cum Laude” at graduation. Higher degree distinctions are recommended only in exceptional cases and are based upon the whole of the candidate’s program of honors studies.

Courses
EUST 2013. Introduction to Europe (Fa). 3 Hours.
This course will cover the basic physical and human geography of Europe, emphasizing the factors that tie Europe together as well as the diversity of environmental and cultural conditions in the region. The class will focus particularly on those countries that are current members of the EU and on possible future entrants.

EUST 399VH. Honors Thesis (Sp, Su, Fa). 1-6 Hour.
Honors thesis course. Prerequisite: Junior standing. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of degree credit.

EUST 4003. European Studies Colloquium (Sp). 3 Hours.
An interdepartmental colloquium with an annual change in subject of investigation, required of students in the European studies program. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. May be repeated for up to 6 hours of degree credit.
