Courses

WLLC 3053. The Colonial French in the Mississippi Valley. 3 Hours.
This course focuses on the French Colonial Mississippi Valley from 1698 until 1763. Activities for both French and non-French speaking students provide a rich environment to discuss encounters, subsistence strategies, and warfare faced by Native peoples, missionaries, explorers, and colonists alike. Students will examine primary handwritten, transcribed, or translated sources. (Typically offered: Spring)

WLLC 3063. Intro to Digital Humanities. 3 Hours.
Explores the myriad intellectual, technological, and aesthetic phenomena emerging from the intersection of the humanities and the digital. Students will critically reflect on the ideas of the innovators who paved the way to the digital age, review humanist responses to the digital age, engage with the field of digital humanities proper, addressing the methodologies, technologies, and histories the field entails, and apply theoretical insights to their practical engagement with a selection of digital tools and projects. (Typically offered: Fall)

WLLC 3073. Digital Humanities Special Topics. 3 Hours.
Topics in digital humanities which are not usually presented in depth in regular courses. Prerequisite: WLLC 3063. (Typically offered: Spring) May be repeated for up to 6 hours of degree credit.

WLLC 3173. Introduction to Linguistics. 3 Hours.
Introduction to language study with stress upon modern linguistic theory and analysis. Data drawn from various languages reveal linguistic universals as well as phonological, syntactic, and semantic systems of individual languages. Related topics: language history, dialectology, language and its relation to culture and society, the history of linguistic scholarship. Prerequisite: Junior standing. (Typically offered: Fall)

This course is cross-listed with COMM 3173, ENGL 3173.
